

OREGON SOLDIERS AT SAN FRANCISCO

Disembarked There This Morning.

REVIEWED BY GEN. SHAFTER AND GOVERNOR OF OREGON.

Troops Given an Enthusiastic Reception—Thousands Thronged the Line of March—Banquet Given Them Tonight—Americans Patrol the Region Around Laguna de Bay—Force Stationed on Island—Dynamite Guns for General Otis.

San Francisco, July 14.—[Special]—The Oregon volunteers disembarked here this morning and marched to the presidio, where they went into camp.

The troops were reviewed by Gen. Shafter, Gov. Geer, of Oregon, and staff.

The troops were given a most enthusiastic reception and thousands thronged the line of march.

A banquet will be given the troops tonight.

The regiment will probably be mustered out next week.

Manila, July 14.—Lake Laguna de Bay is being patrolled by three troops of the Fourth cavalry under Capt. McGraw and the army gunboat Nipadun, commanded by Lieut. Larsen. The force makes its headquarters on an island, living on cascoes, in which the men are towed about to make unexpected visits to towns where there are small forces of insurgents, for the purpose of keeping the rebels moving.

On Tuesday the troops had an engagement at Mantlupa, on the south shore of the lake. They found 500 insurgents there, entrenched near the shore. The Nipadun shelled the rebels and a party of American troops numbered 135 landed and drove them by a sharp running fire to the hills, where they were too strongly entrenched for the small force to attack them.

Two of the cavalrymen were wounded and the bodies of ten insurgents were found. It is supposed that the enemy's loss is thirty-five.

MANY VOLUNTEERS INCAPACITATED

No Regiment Has a Sick List of Less Than Twenty Per Cent.

San Francisco, Cal., July 14.—Advices received by the transport Newport, dated Manila, June 11, are as follows:

The volunteers are greatly debilitated in consequence of their hard campaigning through three months of tropic weather. Since the middle of May no volunteer regiment has had a sick list of less than twenty per cent. Most of them at the present date had 25 per cent ill, and a few regiments have less than one-third of their number on duty. The Nebraska regiment has suffered the worst.

It came in from San Fernando a few days ago with less than 200 men in the ranks. Some of its companies have only two sets of fours.

The South Dakota followed yesterday with 275 men on duty. The Montana and Kansas regiments at San Fernando have not more than 280 available men each. The morning after the Washington troops took Morong, a week ago, only 265 men responded to roll call.

The Washington men have been engaged since March 12 in preventing the insurgent armies of the north and south from forming a junction in the region of Laguna de Bay, often being engaged at the same time with the enemy in opposite directions.

Twenty-four of the Nebraska officers are on the sick list and the Montana, Kansas, Washington and South Dakota regiments show twenty or more officers in the hospitals or sick in their quarters. These regiments have borne the brunt of the fighting.

Their losses in killed and wounded range from 180 in the Montana regiment to 280 Nebraska men. The loss of the Kansas regiment is second to that of Nebraska, while the Washington and South Dakota regiments follow closely, each with losses of about 200. The Oregon regiment also suffered severely.

Of the regulars, the Third artillery is the heaviest loser, its killed and wounded numbering 123.

Dynamite Guns for Otis.

New York, July 14.—A special to the Herald from Washington says:

"Dynamite guns are to be used by the American troops in the fall campaign against the Filipinos. Preparations are being made by the ordnance department to supply Gen. Otis with six Sims-Dudley dynamite-pneumatic weapons. The tests made at the Sandy Hook proving grounds of a gun of this type proved very satisfactory.

"A gun of the same make was used by the Cuban insurgents in their operations and Gen. Garcia declared that several towns were made to surrender as a result of the use of this weapon. "Besides the dynamite guns, Gatling guns will probably be sent to Otis, and the army transports are to be armed with six pounder rapid fire guns to prevent any possible attack by insurgents."

To Call Michigan Assembly.

Detroit, Mich., July 14.—It is reported in Pingree circles that the governor, as soon as the council finally adopts the municipal railway ordinances, will bend his energies to securing a special session of the legislature for the purpose of providing for the submission of a constitutional amendment to the people permitting the city of Detroit to go into the municipal ownership of street railways. The governor hopes to get the special session in operation some time before the November elections and announcement of the plan will be formally made within a few days.

In the meantime the house will ship its live stock to New York to be butchered at its house there.

FORECAST OF WEATHER

Chicago, July 14.—[Special]—Forecast for Wisconsin:

Showers to night; Saturday, continued warm.

Schellingerhout.

The 16-year-old Holland boy with this long name loved music, but his parents were too poor to let him learn it. Not long ago he wrote to Queen Wilhelmina, who is a very young woman, with a great love of young people who wish to make something of themselves, and told her how much he wished to make music his life's work. The young queen at once gave orders that he should have the best music teacher in Holland for the next six months, and then, if he shows that he has any genius, she promises that he shall have the best musical training to be found in Europe. In many ways the little queen has shown that she will be one of the best monarchs the world has ever known, not even excepting Queen Victoria of England.

SECRETARY LONG HEARS FROM DEWEY

THE OLYMPIA IS IN VOLUNTARY QUARANTINE.

As Soon as the Vessel is Coaled, It Will Proceed for Trieste for the Recuperation of Officers and Men.—The Admiral Declines to See the Sultan.

Washington, July 14.—[Special]—Secretary Long this morning received the following from Admiral Dewey at Port Said, Egypt: "The Olympia is in voluntary quarantine. As soon as coaled she will proceed for Trieste for the recuperation of officers and men."

Trieste was chosen by Dewey because it is the northernmost point on the Mediterranean and is considered the healthiest.

The Olympia should reach Trieste in five days. From Trieste, which the admiral will hardly leave before August first, the itinerary of the Olympia will be conjectural.

Half way between Trieste and Gibraltar lies Malta, where it has always been thought the admiral would like to make a brief visit, but if he is as anxious to get to New York as is indicated in the dispatches from Suez, there is no reason why the Olympia should not complete the voyage across the Atlantic by the first week in September.

Sultan Will Not See Dewey.

Port Said, July 14.—The United States cruiser Olympia arrived here at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Admiral Dewey, who is looking very well, has been reluctantly obliged to decline the invitation of Minister Straus to Constantinople. He has decided to proceed in the Olympia to Trieste, where he will make a short stay for a change of air, proceeding thence to America.

Emerald Grove, July 14.—Many of the farmers are busy in the hay fields. These warm days are just what the farmers need. Miss Minnie Austin, who is visiting in the east, writes to friends here that she is now spending some little time in Charlotte, Vt., not far from Lake Champlain. The time for the opening of the Delavan Lake assembly will soon be here. The past few days programs have been sent about here, and many from our vicinity are planning to go. Young Baptists in Richmond.

Richmond, Va., July 14.—The ninth annual convention of the Baptist Young People's union commenced here Thursday in the Auditorium building, on the former state exposition grounds. The attendance was disappointing, the number of delegates on hand being about 4,000, while accommodations were made for three times that number.

Charleston, S. C., is making a big bid for the convention of 1901, and a strong committee of invitation is here. Officers will be elected today.

Greek and Roman doors invariably opened outward. A person passing out of the house was therefore obliged to knock on the door before opening it, to avoid collision with a passer-by.

MARTINELLI SPEAKS AT MADISON JULY 22

POPE'S DELEGATE AT CATHOLIC SUMMER SCHOOL.

Oshkosh Young Man Strangely Afflicted and Puzzles Physicians.—A $9,000 Fire Loss at Clintonville.—Three Injured in a Freight Wreck Near Plymouth.—News from Badgerdom.

Madison, Wis., July 14.—Fifty new students registered at the Catholic Columbian Summer school, yesterday, in addition to the hundreds who had registered and secured cards of admission before by mail and Wednesday, owing to the rain the attendance was not large. Prof. Austin O'Malley, of the University of Notre Dame, lectured today on English literature. Prof. O'Malley is a layman and has studied his subject in Europe. He spoke in the forenoon on "Pathos and Comedy." In the evening he lectured on "Dramatic Construction." The lecture on "Pathos and Comedy" was devoted largely to drawing distinctions between the two.

Bishop Messmer, of Green Bay, president of the school, last night received the following telegram from the Rev. M. J. Lavelle, president of the Eastern Catholic Summer school at Lake Champlain: "The Champlain Summer school sends congratulations and best wishes for a successful session." Bishop Messmer replied in a telegram expressing the good wishes of the Columbian school. Bishop Messmer yesterday received a telegram from Martinelli, the papal delegate, which says the latter will arrive here July 22 and remain a part of the week.

Young Man Strangely Afflicted

Oshkosh, Wis., July 14.—Ira Silvernail, a young man, is lying dangerously ill with a malady that is rare and puzzling to physicians. Its scientific name is pleu-pneumonia, or a bleeding disease. Beginning last Saturday morning the flow of blood from the nose, mouth and other parts of the body have been almost constant. Except when he is asleep. The only change in his physical condition is a weakness, the result of the loss of blood. The father of the boy says that his son has always been strong and healthy. He was one of the Rough Riders in the Fourth of July parade, and while he may have strained himself in some way, the physicians say that that could not have brought on his present illness. The bleeding was preceded by a severe chill last Saturday morning.

For New Richmond Schools.

River Falls, Wis., July 14.—A circular letter, soliciting aid for the schools of New Richmond, has been sent out from here to all the city and county superintendents of the state. New Richmond has a school enrolling more than 600 pupils and requiring a teaching force of thirteen teachers. The size of the school will be little affected by the cyclone, while the ability of the town to support it is reduced by more than one-half. It is evident, therefore, that unless aid comes from somewhere it will be impossible for the city to keep its schools open. The committee having the matter in charge has every confidence that its efforts will meet with success, and that quite a sum will be raised for this special purpose. While the appeal is directed particularly to the school teachers of the state, the committee will be glad to receive subscriptions from any who may care to help New Richmond in this way.

It is not known how the fire started.

The subject of supplying free text books for use in the public schools has been discussed at the school district meetings. For two years past Union district, No. 2, has voted in favor of free text books and Union district, No. 1, has voted adversely. But at Wednesday night's annual meeting of electors of District No. 1 it was voted to ask the school board to call a special meeting of the two districts constituting the city district and then submit the question of free text books to the electors of the city. The school board has, therefore, called the meeting for Aug. 1. Indications are that the proposition to supply free books will be adopted.

FOR UNITED DEMAND ON CHINA

Great Britain and America May Enforce Brice Railroad Contract.

New York, July 14.—The Tribune says: "A business alliance of American and British capitalists has been recently formed which is of unusual interest and importance because of the leading positions held by these men on both sides of the Atlantic; because of the many millions of dollars involved in it; because the United States government is about to be asked to give the compact official sanction and moral support; because Great Britain has already formally approved it, and because the field of its operations is beyond the jurisdiction of both nations. "Announcement of this alliance is made by F. W. Whitridge, of the firm of Cary & Whitridge, who now fills the place left vacant by the death of ex-Senator Calvin S. Brice as chairman of the executive committee of the American China Development company. The company is one party to the agreement, and the other is the British and Chinese corporation.

"This makes a combination of the most powerful capitalists in the world; the field of their activities is China. The concessions which ex-Senator Brice secured from the Chinese government for the American Development company consist of the right to construct a railroad 750 miles long from Canton to Hanow, exceedingly valuable coal-mining concessions and other industrial franchises of less individual but great aggregate value. The British company had a contract to build an eighty-mile railway from Canton to Kowloon, on the sea-coast. The two resolved to pool their undertaking and their profit.

"The American company's engineer, W. Barclay Parsons, who is now in Shanghai, reports that there is a disposition on the part of the Chinese government to avoid fulfilling its part of the contract. This is the cause for appealing to our government for moral support. Such a demand upon the United States government is probably unprecedented."

He had been for about five years in very poor health, and when the end came he was confined to the house for about thirty-six hours. He was one of the pioneers of the village and was a kind and indulgent husband and father, an obliging neighbor, a friend and helper to the needy at all times, and his death is mourned by all who knew him. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the house and 2:30 at the Lutheran

Job and His Boils.

A mother was trying to explain to her 5-year-old daughter the efficacy of prayer. She chose the trials of Job as an illustration. After pointing out how the prophet had got rid of his many afflictions by prayer, she asked the child: "Now, what did Job do when he had boils?" The youngster replied, promptly: "Guess he scowched."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Growth of Mohammedanism

Mohammedanism is by far the most formidable enemy that Christianity has to encounter. Prof. Vasilief, who has given much thought to the subject of China, says that Islam is spreading rapidly in that country. And Rev. Mr. Dean of the United Presbyterian church of Calabar, on the coast of Upper Guinea, in Africa, says the Moslem missionaries are meeting with great success in those parts.

Into the Cistern.

Last Monday little Jeanette Bates, of Richmond, Ky., was playing around the cistern, when one of the boards broke and let her fall in. The three-year-old tot, though, held onto the chain and kept her head above the water until her papa and some neighbors got her out.

DOE ACCEPTS APPOINTMENT

Former Janesville Man's Name Will Be Sent to Council

The Milwaukee Sentinel of this morning has the following on Joseph B. Doe's acceptance of the appointment as special assistant city attorney at Milwaukee:

"Joseph B. Doe has decided to accept the position of special assistant city attorney tendered him by City Attorney Runge. It was announced yesterday that Mr. Doe's appointment would be sent to the common council Monday. Mr. Doe said that when Mr. Runge suggested his appointment he told him that he would not consider the offer unless it were in the nature of a legal proposition and not as a political appointment. Since he began practice in Milwaukee, Mr. Doe has given special attention to negligence law. Cases involving negligence come before the city attorney frequently and it was for the purpose of having a man to attend to these cases that Mr. Runge sought the services of Mr. Doe. Mr. Doe said yesterday that if there was going to be opposition to the confirmation of his appointment he should withdraw his name."

A Lunch Delicacy

Down in Chicago people are much taken with a new lunch article put up in cans called Lake Ciccoes, packed in tomato sauce. We purchased an invoice of them and are well pleased with them. The ciccoe is a lake fish, very tender, with no bones to speak of. They are put up in a light salt brine, then smoked and packed in tomato sauce and are simply delicious. They sell at 10c per can, Sanborn.

A Clear Havana Cigar for 5c We made what we think a lucky strike this week in securing a consignment of clear Havana cigars called "Havana Seconds" which will go at 5c each. This cigar is sold by Sprague, Warner & Co., of Chicago, but is not advertised and is absolutely guaranteed to be Havana through and through, making as pleasant a smoke as you ever secured. The "Havana Second" will afford men who enjoy a 10c cigar and yet do not feel they can afford to invest the amount, as good a cigar as the 10c goods at the 5c price. By the box of 100 they sell at $4.00. Sanborn.

TO INCREASE WAR TAX LIST

Additional Articles May Be Made Liable to Duty.

MORE REVENUE IS NEEDED.

Several Propositions Under Discussion—Express and Telegraph Companies Mentioned as Proper Subjects for Increased Taxation.

Washington, July 14.—It is altogether probable that the next annual report of the internal revenue bureau will recommend a number of changes in the war revenue act. In the main the law has worked satisfactorily and has produced almost exactly the amount estimated by the commission. This, however, was something less than the estimates generally accepted by well-informed members of congress. The internal revenue officials are of the opinion that the law might properly be extended in certain directions without becoming at all burdensome to the public.

One of the propositions now under consideration is to assess a tax on the sale or rental of all patent protected articles. It is suggested also that express and telegraph companies doing a money exchange business should be required to pay an annual tax for the privilege, and it is also likely that a modification of the law with respect to mutual insurance companies may be recommended.

An ounce of phenacetine costs in Canada, it is said, from 12 to 15 cents, and yet in the United States the price is uniformly $1 an ounce. The drug, it is thought, could well stand a heavier tax.

It is not improbable that congress will be asked to appoint an expert commission to thoroughly go over the ground and recommend such changes in detail as experience has shown to be necessary.

TIN WORKERS GET RAISE.

Granted Increase of 15 Per Cent Over the 1898 Scale.

Chicago, July 14.—Thirty thousand members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin-Plate Workers employed in forty plants of the American Tin-Plate company in Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and West Virginia were granted yesterday an increase of 15 per cent in wages over the 1898 scale. All the mills have been closed since June 30 for the annual clean-up and repairs, but the men were virtually on strike, as they had made a general demand for 20 per cent increase in wages. The adjustment of the scale and the settlement of the labor difficulties took place in the company's offices in this city. The forty big plants will resume operations on Monday morning. Besides the 30,000 union men affected, it is estimated that there are nearly 20,000 other employees who were affected by the closing of the mills, but will not be benefited by the wage increase granted to the union.

Muster Out at San Francisco. San Francisco, Cal., July 14.—The Second Oregon volunteer regiment, the first of the war-seasoned troops to return from the Philippine war, are to be mustered out in San Francisco, the war department consenting, on an urgent solicitation by Col. Summers, commanding, and Gov. Geer.

Today transports will pull into the United States dock, and the troops will land and march to the Presidio, where they will remain until mustered out, which will be in about two weeks.

Gen. Shafter will review the troops on Vass Ness avenue, the big boulevard of San Francisco.

Samoan Board Coming Home.

Washington, July 14.—The naval transport Badger, which carried the Samoan commission to Samoa, sailed for home to-day with the commission aboard.

EXCELLENT RESULTS

They Have Resulted in a Steady Gain of Popularity.

People Who are Ever Ready to Recommend What Has Done Them Much Good. The people of Janesville feel very grateful for the great benefit they have received from the use of Morrow's Kidney-cure, the great remedy for backache, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness and all diseases arising from the kidneys. Morrow's Kidney-cure where other remedies have failed and the people of this city have not been slow to find this out, and they add their testimony that their friends may know what to use and get cured.

Mrs. F. L. Kimball, 100 Linn street, says: "I have been a sufferer from kidney and liver troubles for the past two years. I could not sleep on account of nervousness. I had palpitation of the heart, sinking and dizzy spells, and suffered a great deal from nervous headache and rheumatism. I was treated by doctors, but they gave me only temporary relief. By using Morrow's Kidney-cure and Liver-lax for three days I have been greatly relieved of all my troubles. I will continue to use these grand remedies."

Morrow's Kidney-cure are not pills, but yellow tablets, and sell at fifty cents a box. Morrow's Liver-lax are small red granules and sell at twenty-five cents a box by all druggists and by The People's Drug Co. Mailed on receipt of price. Manufactured by John Morrow & Co., chemists, Springfield, Ohio.

YACHTING GOWNS.

Truly Feminine in Style—White the Prevailing Choice.

There must be all kinds of gowns in the summer outfit of a fashionable woman—something for morning, afternoon and evening, and special gowns for outdoor sports, without which life at the summer watering places would lose half its charm. But the yachting suit is as truly feminine as any dress this season with its long skirt, shaped blouse and festooned bands of satin, edged with fine silk gimp. White seems to be the prevailing choice for this sort of dress, and cloth, serge, flannel, plain linen and duck are the favorite materials.

All kinds of gowns are affected by the fashion for long skirts, without very much regard for the purpose for which they are intended. To be sure, there are degrees of length, but the yachting skirt is long enough more than to touch the floor all around.

The circular blouse in varied widths is the feature of many of the yachting skirts, but others are cut with the long flaring gores and trimmed with wide stitched bands. Many rows of stitching in colored silk make a pretty finish on the white cloth gowns, which in some instances are made with a blouse waist, finished with a deep sailor collar, a white chemisette and stock of tucked silk, and a sailor tie of white banded across the ends with blue silk.

Cloth and fine flannel with a cloth finish in the light colors and navy blue are both made up into yachting suits.

SUMMER AND YACHTING DRESSES.

One very striking model in dark blue has three scanty shapely flounces around the skirt piped on the edges with white. These are fully six inches wide, overlapping each other a little, a white piping finishing the upper flounce. The overdress is spotted all over with small embroidered rings of white linen such as are used in the renaissance lace work. They are also sewed on the blouse bodice, which is completed with white pipings and a white pique vest.

Yachting suits of linen and pique are very much the fashion, and checked linens in the natural flax color are worn by the English women for what they call river suits, as the stuff will not fade in the sun. Tailor made yachting suits of white duck, finished with stitched bands of the same, are extremely elegant this season, made with the short scalloped coats so much seen in cloth and worn with a pretty colored taffeta silk waist all fine band run tucks and open lines of hemstitching.

Pale blue linen, decorated with bands of white linen set in and strapped across with narrow stitched bands of blue, makes a charming summer gown. A very chic yachting suit of white cloth is trimmed with stitched bands of pale blue cloth, and pretty linen batiste waists to wear with these gowns show innumerable fine tucks, says the New York Sun in concluding an illustrated resume of summer dress, from which these items are reproduced.

The Frenchwoman's Slim Effect.

The tight lacing of Frenchwomen has passed into a proverb. But makers of fine lingerie will explain to any one who has the curiosity to investigate that the slim effects for which the Parisian is famous are obtained quite as much by the manner of wearing the undergarments as by their cut or by any straining of the corset strings, says the New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Here, for example, is a point to be noted: Whereas, skirts in America have had a habit of coming to the waist line, no French girl would so far misshape herself as to let the skirtband come higher than the second clasp of the corset. An inverted hook catches all skirtbands in her toilet and holds them well down in front, though the strings tie at the waist behind. When a short waisted Eton or bolero corset is donned with such a skirt arrangement, French art accomplishes a result to parallel which an American girl, with her accumulation of garments at the waist, would have to pinch and get red in the face drawing up her lacing.

Fashion's Echoes.

Even the bicycle skirt has added inches in this season of street sweeping and trailing robes, and wash skirts are made so long that at the sides and in the back they lie on the ground several inches.

Innumerable yards of puckered black velvet ribbon are used in trimming white organdies.

Silk percaleine is a new lining fabric, inexpensive and light, combining silk with cotton.

Fashions were never more becoming to the short girl. In a trailing princess gown she attains a dignity unknown in the day of sensible short skirts.

Madras, fine gingham, duck and pique all figure in serviceable summer gowns.

A Point Worth Remembering

In connection with comfortable, stylish foot covering is the price. This is the season when you hear more of aching and tired feet, and you wonder at the cause. It is manifold—but nearly always lies in the fact that your foot is made to conform to a last that is not properly outlined to its peculiar want. Every foot has its own distinctive requirements, and are as varied as the faces you meet every day on the street. To suit these we have the experience in Shoe-Buying and Foot-Fitting that enables us at all times to satisfy the taste and want of every trader at our store. We can show you the best values in a Man's or Ladies' Summer Shoe on any of our latest lasts, at prices you can't duplicate anywhere. We now have a lot of broken lines that it would mean money saved to you by looking at them. NOT AN OLD STYLE. Just simply to get rid of them and save you dollars. You will find the best Boys' Shoes at our store. We always keep a big variety. Watch for our broken sizes—$4.00 and $3.50 worth—all at the common figure, $2.75.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1692—Cardinal Mazzarin, French statesman, born; died 1681.
1818—Nathaniel Lyon, soldier, born in Ashford, Conn.; killed at Wilson's Creek, Mo., 1862.
1825—Jervis McEntee, American landscape artist, born at Rondout, N. Y.; died there 1891.
1833—The Crystal Palace exhibition opened in New York city. The New York World's fair of 1853 brought together a fine display of American machinery and a variety of foreign products. Among 5,000 exhibitors one-half were foreigners. It suffered by the competition of an exhibition opened in Dublin the same year and also from delay in opening and the inaccessibility of the site. The building represented a Gothic cross. It was wholly of glass and iron.
1896—Mgr. Monaco la Villetta, senior cardinal bishop of the Roman hierarchy, died at Rome; born 1827.
1897—General John E. Farnsworth, noted Federal veteran, died in Washington; born 1820.

THE DEADLY GASOLINE.

The Oshkosh Northwestern publishes the following sensible editorial:

The gasoline explosion in Washington which killed Mrs. Dickins, wife of a naval officer, and partially destroyed a house in the fashionable residence portion of the city, is another warning to those addicted to the careless use of explosives. Accidents resulting from the explosion of gasoline fumes are frequent, so frequent, in fact, as to create surprise that there are still those who have not had sufficient warning of its dangerous character to make them more careful. Like every other explosive, gasoline is reasonably safe when properly handled and exceedingly dangerous when not properly handled. Even the well harnessed power of steam is dangerous when not properly handled, and it is because of greater knowledge of how to handle it, and the safety appliances for controlling it that it has become a reasonably safe agency. The explosions and damage from powder were formerly more frequent, until people generally came to fully realize its danger and to know how to handle it. The kerosene can was once far more deadly to servant girls and careless women than it is today, simply because people have learned to use it in the proper manner.

But gasoline brings in a new element of danger with which women have not yet become familiar. It seems difficult for them to realize that while using a liquid there is any danger from it as a gas. They do not appreciate the fact that every drop they use is immediately transformed into a gas of great explosive power and very easily ignited. In this respect it so differs from powder or kerosene as to deceive some people into its use under the most hazardous circumstances.

Its exposure to the atmosphere inside the walls of a room or a cellar is exceedingly dangerous, and ought never to be permitted even in small quantities. It should never be used for cleaning clothes or like purposes except in the open air. Mrs. Dickins lost her life through cleaning rugs in her living rooms. Some time ago a man and his wife were both killed in Fond du Lac through cleaning some clothes with gasoline in the kitchen. A cellar or basement is the most dangerous place of all to use gasoline, because the fumes may rise through the house and become ignited. Women especially are careless about these things, and any public attention which such a distressing accident as that in Washington attracts, through the press and otherwise, is so much towards educating them in the proper and safer use of the deadly gasoline.

General Wheeler, it is thought, goes to the Philippines for the purpose of canvassing the situation and reporting to the president. If this be the fact, the assignment has been placed in good hands, and the report made can be relied upon.

"If my name was worth anything, it was worth enough so that they might have asked me if they could use it," said a local business man today. And there were many others.

A committee of Chicagoans will meet Admiral Dewey at Gibraltar, and formally invite him to visit Chicago in the fall. There is nothing slow about Chicago.

Camp Douglas rifle range will be known as "Camp MacArthur" during the outing of the state militia, in honor of the fighting general from Wisconsin.

Senator Depew says that he found no sympathy for Spain in Europe, but that everyone evinced a lively interest in the affairs of the United States.

General Leonard Wood appears to be as successful in warring against yellow fever as he was in warring against the Spaniards.

Broadhead people should be proud of their band and give it liberal support. It is an excellent organization.

The balloon ascension did not take place. They had the gas, all right, but no balloon.

The base ball games, however, have been just what they were represented to be.

Aguinaldo has come to the surface long enough to write another proclamation.

The automobile races didn't occur, because, well, they just didn't occur.

"Of all sad words
"Of tongue or pen,
"The saddest are these,
"It might have been."

Turning in a Tip.
"Mamma, what would you do if that big vase in the parlor should get broken?" said Tommy. "I should spank whoever did it," said Mrs. Banks, gazing severely at her little son. "Well, then, you'd better begin to get up your muscle," said Tommy, gleefully, "coz papa's broken it."

Crullers for Quits.
Weary Walker-Laffy, would you please give me a few crullers like dose I got last week? Mrs. Newed—Yes, poor fellow; here are three of them for you. Weary Walker—Can't yer make it four, mum? Me and me partner wants ter play quits.

Great Scheme.
Hoax—Guzzler has at last found a sure remedy for insomnia. Hoax—What is it? "Why, he sets his alarm clock to go off five minutes after he has retired, and when he hears it he turns over and goes right to sleep."

Physiology.
"I suppose you are aware that a person's two ears are not of equal strength?" "Oh, yes; I know lots of men who have a deaf ear for beggars and a most acute one for invitations to drink."

A Baseball Bulletin.
"Mr. Higgs, can I get off this afternoon? My grandmother's dead." "Yes, you may go; but tell your grandmother that she will imperil your financial welfare if she dies any more this summer."

Turks Revere Their Mother.
The strongest sentiment of the Turk is his reverence for his mother. He always stands in her presence until invited to sit down—a compliment he pays to no one else.

Perhaps.
"What kind of monkey talk is that they use in golf, anyway?" "Oh, I don't know; it has something to do with the missing link, I suppose."

Those on Her List.
Tom—Isn't she a perfect angel, Dick?—Well, yes, and when she sat in front of me at the theater one night I felt as if I'd like to clip her wings.

Madame Le Claire,
CLAIRVOYANT AND PALMIST.

Take courage, rejoice and be happy, for a mighty woman is in your midst. She comes with help and hope in her hands and truth upon her lips.

The most successful medium traveling is Madame Le Claire, the noted French clairvoyant and palmist. Her equal has never been found for giving correct and truthful life readings. Hosts of Janesville people testify to her worth. She lifts the dark veil of the past and penetrates the mysteries of the future, locates diseases, unites the separated, tells how to be successful in business and love affairs. Parlors at 53 North Franklin street, Murdock flats. Maid in attendance.

The Leech.
The medicative leech is now practically a thing of the past. The falling off in the demand for leeches by the medical profession is quite astonishing, as may be judged from the fact that in the year 1843 the two largest hospitals in London called for about 50,000 of them, whereas now these institutions order only 50 or 100 leeches at irregular and infrequent intervals.
Assuredly the leech has seen his best days. With the old regime, when "cupping" and "bleeding" were the sheet anchors of surgery, the leech all but disappeared. So constant was his employment in medieval times that his name furnished a synonym for the medical profession and the doctor came to be known impolitely as "the leech"—perhaps a subtle allusion to the capacity for fees which characterized the profession in those times. At present the Hungarian speckled leech is most in request.

Artificial Dreams.
Psychologists have undertaken the scientific study of dreams. When the olfactory sense of a sleeper is stimulated by an odor, such as that of hellebore, not only does he dream of "smelling violets," but visual images of flowers appear to him. If the experiment is prolonged, the dream visions become complex and filled with strange imagery. A vibrating tuning fork held near a sleeper's ear made him dream of a lion roaring, and when a little salt and water was put on his tongue he dreamed that he was eating olives.

Family Driven Mad.
An extraordinary case of madness, in which all members of a family, consisting of father, mother and four children, were simultaneously afflicted, has occurred at Stavelot. A party of strolling gypsies, who undertook to tell the father's fortune by means of cards, declared that he would be killed while serving in the army, and this prediction so impressed him and his family that in the course of the same day they all developed signs of wavering reason, and before long had to be put under restraint. The gypsies, who were the source of the trouble, were arrested by the German police while crossing the frontier from Belgium.

WE ARE RULED BY OUR TEETH.
They do pretty nearly as they please with us. The way to do is to take things in your own hands and consult a dentist. What a relief it is to feel that you may bite without getting a mirror and selecting a tooth to bite on—what a relief it is to feel that the thing is done—that the pain, the bill and all the disagreeableness generally is all done with. That we can eat with our fear of pain and danger to our health. We guarantee our work. We will be economical acquaintances.

BIKE MEETING ENDS IN TOTAL FAILURE

RIDERS GOT ONLY PART OF THEIR CASH.

Management Had an Up-Hill Job,
and Erred in Extravagant Advertising—Amateurs Got the Prizes, But Professionals Made a Compromise—
Tom Eck's Plan Spoiled by Rain.

The fourteenth annual meet of the Wisconsin Division L. A. W. has ended miserably after one day's racing and the club occupies the unique and unenviable position of being the first in the fourteen years to throw up the sponge before the end of the meeting.

Neither the L. A. W. officials or the citizens of Janesville are responsible, however, as the meeting was run as a private enterprise by individuals.

It must be conceded that they had an up hill proposition at the best, and they certainly made a mistake in advertising features which did not materialize and which it is claimed by many were never arranged for. At 2 p. m. yesterday a delegation of Beloit people headed by a band of music arrived on a special over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway. They numbered about 300 and all they could do was to swell the knots of people on the corners and listen to the tales of woe of the angry racers who had come here on big expense and who could not even collect the prizes that they had won the day before. The amateurs were settled with, as most of their prizes were donated, but the professionals were "out." True, the ebony streak, Major Taylor, got $40.00 out of the $125.00 due him, and the Butler brothers, Nat and Tom, received $65.00 on a claim of $185.00. The rest of them received only the sympathies of those on the outside. But sympathy is not legal tender and cannot be exchanged for the little pieces of cardboard entitling one to ride on the varnished cars of the railroad company. Neither will it pay a hotel bill and lots of other things. Take it altogether, it was a bad thing for Janesville and it will take us a long time to recover from the injury it has done the city.

After the management gave up, arrangements were at once made by Tom Eck, the veteran handler of racing men to hold a few events this afternoon and he expected to do so, but the rain put an end to his plans.

A BURGlar made his appearance at the residence of William H. Bonesteel, 102 South Academy street, about 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Mrs. Bonesteel was lying on a sofa, awaiting the return of her son, Ralph, who had gone for a trip in the country on his bicycle. Mr. Bonesteel was in an adjoining room. His wife heard a noise at the window and saw an intruder facing her and surprised him by saying, "Come in, sir, come right in!" Mrs. Bonesteel's invitation was not accepted, however, and the stranger made a most hasty retreat, possibly the most frightened of the trio.

'NEATH THE SHADOW OF DEATH

Miss Mattie Calkins.

The sad news was received yesterday of the death of Miss Mattie Calkins, formerly of this city, which occurred at her home in Berwyn, a suburb, of Chicago. Miss Calkins was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac C. Calkins, former residents. Mr. Calkins was a well-known traveling salesman and the family resided on South Jackson street. Miss Calkins graduated from the Janesville high school in the year of 1888 and had many friends in the city who will be pained to learn of her death. Besides her parents she leaves a brother and a sister.

The Berwyn (Ill.) Current publishes the following account of Miss Calkins' death: "Miss Martha L. Calkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Calkins, died at her home on Maple avenue yesterday morning, at half past nine. Although she had been in ill health for a number of years, she was not confined to her bed until two weeks since. The funeral will be held at the family residence tomorrow morning. The services will be private. Interment will be made at Rock Island.

"Deceased was born in Geneseo, Ill. The greater part of her life was spent at Janesville, Wis., at which place she graduated from the high school about eight years ago. Miss Calkins was a young woman of unusual ability. Her talent as a writer was beyond the ordinary, having a mind of great depth and strength. She improved it in many ways. A number of her stories have been published. During her five years' residence in Berwyn she made many staunch friends. She was a consistent Christian and a member of the Baptist church. Her place in the Woman's club was a valued one. Her ambition often exceeded her strength. A father, mother and one sister survive, who have the sympathy of the entire community.

Mrs. Henry P. Lanphier.

Death has claimed another pioneer of Rock county in the person of Mrs. Henry P. Lanphier of Clinton. She was born in Probh, N. Y., in 1815, on December 24; was married to Henry P. Lanphier December 27, 1846. Six children were born to them, three girls and three boys, the girls having preceded their mother to the grave. The three boys are still living, J. H. Lanphier, of Janesville, also G. A. Lanphier, of Janesville, and T. J., the youngest of the boys, resides at Clinton. Notice of the funeral will appear later.

But he had one phrase ready for her. He reminded her of the paragraphs, the rumors and the manifesto. "We have by those means felt the pulse of the public," he said. He paused; she said nothing. "The result is not—er—encouraging," he went on. "The moment is not propitious."

"You promised the money if the prince signed the manifesto," she said. "Promised? Oh, well, I said I'd—"

"You promised," said Mrs. Rivers. "What's the difficulty now?"

"That state of public feeling"—he began.

"I know that. We want the money to change it." She smiled slightly. "If the feeling had been with us already we shouldn't have wanted the money."

She leaned forward and asked, "Haven't you got the money? You said you had."

"Yes, I've got it—or I could get it."

"Yes, well, then—Why have you changed your mind?"

He made no answer, and for awhile she sat looking at him thoughtfully. She did not abuse him, and she did not cry.

"I want to understand," she said presently. "Did you ever mean to give us the money?"

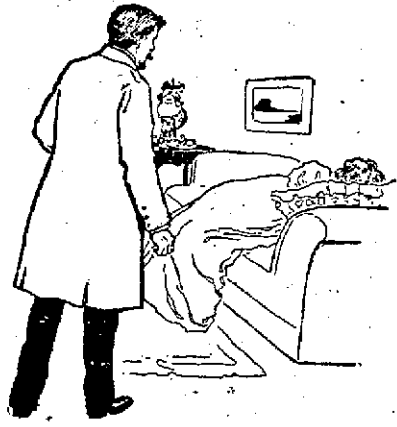

"Yes, upon my honor I!"

"Are you sure?" She forced him to look her in the face. He was silent. She rose, took a Japanese fan from a side table and sat down again; the lower part of her face was now hidden by the fan. Byers saw nothing but her eyes.

"What did you mean?" she asked.

"You've made us all—the prince and his friends and me—look very silly. How did that help you? I don't see what you could get out of that!"

She was looking at him now as though she thought him mad. She could not see what he had got out of it. It had not yet crossed her mind that there had been money to be got out of it. So ignorant was she, with all her shrewdness, with all her resolution.

She turned sideways and hid her face in the cushions of the sofa.

"And I understood that you were such a clever, farseeing man," she went on. "Lady Craigenoch always told me so. She said I could trust you in anything. Do tell me about it, Mr. Byers."

"I can't explain it to you," he began. "You wouldn't!"

"Yes, I should understand it if you told me," she insisted.

If he told her he was a liar and a thief, she would understand. Probably she would. But he did not think that she would understand the transaction if he used any less plain language about it. And that language was not only hard to use to her, but struck strangely on his own head and his own heart. Surely there must be other terms in which to describe his part in the transaction? There were plenty of such in the city; were there none in Palace Gate?

"It's a matter of business"—again he began.

She stopped him with an imperious wave of the fan. Her eyes grew animated with a sudden enlightenment; she looked at him for a moment or two and then asked, "Have you been making money out of it somehow?" He did not answer. "How, please?" she asked.

"What does that matter?" His voice was low.

"I should like to hear, please. You don't want to tell me? But I want to know. It—it'll be useful to me to understand things like this."

It seemed to Mr. Byers that he had to tell her; that this was the one thing left that he could do—the one obligation which he could perform. So he began to tell her, and as he told her naturally (or curiously, since nature is curious) his pride in the great coup revived—his professional pride. He went into it all thoroughly. She followed him very intelligently. He made her understand what an "option" was, what "differences," what the "put" and what the "call." He pointed out how the changes in public affairs might make welcome changes in private pockets and would have her know that the secret center of great movements must be sought in the bourses, not in the cabinets of Europe. Perhaps he exaggerated here a little, as a man will in praising what he loves. Finally, carried away by enthusiasm, he gave her the means of guessing with fair accuracy the profit that he and his friends had made out of the transaction. Thus ending, he heaved a sigh of relief. She understood, and there had been no need of those uncivil terms which lately had pressed themselves forward to the tip of his tongue so rudely.

"I think I'd better not try to have anything more to do with politics," she said. "I—I'm too ignorant." There was a little break in her tones. Byers glanced at her sharply and apprehensively. Now that his story was ended, his enthusiasm died away. He expected abuse now. Well, he would bear it. She was entitled to relieve her mind.

"What a fool I've been! How you must have been laughing at me—at my poor prince and me!" She looked across at him, smiling faintly. He sat, twisting his hat in his hands. Then she turned her eyes toward the fireplace. Byers had nothing to say; he was wondering whether he might go now. Glancing at her for permission, he saw that her clear bright eyes had grown dim presently a tear formed and rolled down her cheek. Then she began to sob, softly at first, presently with growing and rising passion. She seemed quite forgetful of him, heedless of what he thought and of how she looked. All that was in her, the pang of her dead hopes, the woe for her poor prince, the bitter shame of her own crushed pride and helpless folly, came out in her sobs as she abandoned herself to weeping. Byers sat by, listening always—looking sometimes. He tried to defend himself to himself. Was it decent of her, was it becoming, wasn't it characteristic of the lack of self control and self respect that marks the sort of woman she was? It might be open to all these reproaches. She seemed not to care; she cried on. He could not help looking at her now. At last she saw him looking, and with apology or irritation, he could not tell—she turned sideways and hid her face in the cushions of the sofa. Byers rose slowly, almost unsteadily, to his feet. "My God!" he whispered to himself, as he stood for a moment and looked at her. Then he walked over to where she lay, her head buried in the cushions.

"It doesn't make all that difference to you," he said roughly. "You wouldn't have gone with him."

She turned her face to him for a moment. She did not look her best; how could she? But Mr. Byers did not notice that.

"I love him, and I wanted to do it," Byers had "wanted to do it," too, and their desires had clashed. But in his desire there had been no alloy of love; it was all true metal, true metal of self. He stood over her for a minute without speaking. A strange feeling seized him then; he had felt it once before with regard to this woman.

"If it had been for you, I'd have blanked the money and gone ahead," he blurted out in an indistinct, impetuous utterance.

Again she looked up. There was no surprise, no resentment, in her face, only a heartbreaking plainness.

"Oh, why couldn't you be honest with me?" she mourned. But she stopped sobbing and sat straight on the sofa again.

"You'll think me still more of a fool for doing this," she said.

Was the abuse never coming? Mr. Byers began to long for it. If he were abused enough, he thought that he might be able to find something to say for himself.

"You think that because—because I live as I do I know the world, and—"

and so on. I don't a bit. It doesn't follow really, you know. Fancy my thinking I could do anything for Julian! What do I know of business? Well, you've told me now!"

"If it had been for you, I'd have risked it, and gone ahead," said Byers again.

"I don't know what you mean by that," she murmured vaguely. Byers did not try to describe to her the odd, strong impulse which had inspired his speech. "I must go and tell the prince about it," she said.

"What are you going to do?" he demanded.

"Do? What is there to do? Nothing, I suppose. What can we do?"

"I wish to God I'd—I'd met a woman like you! Shall you marry him now?"

She looked up. A faint smile appeared on her face.

"Yes," she said. "It doesn't matter now, and he'll like it. Yes, I'll marry him now."

Two visions—one was of Mrs. Byers and the babies in Portland place—rose before Byers' thoughts.

"He hasn't lost much, then," he said. "And you? You'll be just as happy?"

"It was the whole world to me," said she, and for the last time she put her handkerchief to her eyes. Then she stowed it away in her pocket and looked expectantly at her visitor. Here was the permission to go.

"Will you take the money?" said he. "What money?"

"What I've made—my share of it."

"Oh, don't be silly! What do I care what money you've made?"

He spoke lower as he put his second question.

"Will you forgive me?" he asked. "Forgive you?" She laughed a little, yet looked puzzled. "I didn't think about you like that," she explained. "You're not a man to me."

"You're not a man to me. What am I to you, then?"

"I don't know. Things in general—the world—business—the truth about myself. Yes, you're the truth about myself to me."

"Are you?" she asked, as it seemed half in surprise, half in indifference. "Oh, I suppose you're no worse than other people! Only I was such a fool. Goodby, Mr. Byers."

She held out her hand. He had not meant to offer his. But he took hers and pressed it. He had a vague desire to tell her that he was not a type of all humanity; that other men were better than he was; that there were unselfish men, true men, men who did not make fools for money's sake, of women; of women whose shoes they were not worthy to black. But he could not say anything of all this, and he left her without another word. And the next morning he bought the "call" of a big block of the stock; for the news of Prince Julian's marriage with Mrs. Rivers would send it up a point or two. Habit is very strong.

When he was gone, Mrs. Rivers went up stairs to her room and bathed her face. Then she rejoined Prince Julian in the library. Weary of waiting, he had gone to sleep, but he woke up and was rejoiced to see her. He listened to her story, called Mr. Byers an infernal rogue and, with an expression of relief on his face, said:

"There's the end of that! And now, darling!"

"Yes, I'll marry you now," she said. "It doesn't matter now."

Thus, as has been said, the whole affair had only three obvious effects—the renovation of Lady Craigenoch's town house, a baronetcy for Sir Henry Shum (services to the party are a recognized claim on the favor of her majesty) and the marriage of Prince Julian. But from it both Mrs. Rivers and Mr. Byers derived some new ideas of the world and of themselves. Shall women weep and hard men curse their own work without result? The temple of truth is not a national institution. So, of course, one pays to go in. Even when you are in, it is difficult to look at more than one side of it at once. Perhaps Mrs. Rivers did not realize this, and Mr. Byers could not while he seemed still to hear her crying. He heard the sobs for so many evenings, mingling oddly with the click of his wife's knitting needles.

GAINS MUCH RICH LAND. LOSS TO OUR FOREIGN TRADE GUATEMALA CAUSES ANXIETY.

Federal Court Decision Gives the Northern Pacific Millions.

St. Paul, Minn., July 14.—Judge Sanborn of the U. S. Circuit court Thursday decided that Ashland, Wis., is the eastern terminus of the Northern Pacific railroad, and in so deciding confirmed the Northern Pacific's title to 1,000,000 acres of very valuable land along the shore of Lake Superior, between Ashland and Duluth.

The federal government was plaintiff in the action, suing to void a patent to this tract of land, which was issued to the Northern Pacific Railroad company by the land department of a previous administration, on the plea that the grant was made "under the erroneous impression and mistaken belief," as the plaintiff averred, that the grant in question was within the limits of the congressional grant of the Northern Pacific company.

The hearing was before the full bench, Judges Caldwell, Sanborn and Thayer, and the opinion, a most exhaustive one, was written by Judge Sanborn. The decision says:

"Our conclusion upon the facts of this record is that the Northern Pacific company never selected any other place than Ashland as its easterly terminus; that it selected a point on Lake Superior, the city of Ashland, as its easterly terminus in 1884; that this selection was accepted and approved by the land department; that it had not forfeited or lost the power of selection when the choice was made; that this point, Ashland, is the easterly terminus of the Northern Pacific road."

THE BASEBALL REPORT.

Games Played Yesterday in the Two Leading Leagues.

Garvin outpitched Lewis yesterday at Boston, and Chicago won the odd game of the series. The victory did not raise the Orphans in the percentage column, but it dragged Boston from second place, Philadelphia slipping ahead by virtue of another win over Cleveland. Brooklyn could do little with Powell and St. Louis took the last game of the series. The Pirates had rather a pleasant time of it at New York and are closing fast on the Reds. Rain prevented Washington and Cincinnati and Baltimore and Louisville from playing. The scores:

Gain of Des Moines Banks.
Des Moines, July 14.—The monthly report of the Des Moines clearing house shows that bank deposits in Des Moines have about doubled in eighteen months since Jan. 1, 1898. At that time the deposits were $6,556,524; today they are $12,634,318.

Total Exports for Last Year Were $1,227,443,425.

Washington, July 14.—The figures showing the total exports and imports of the United States in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1899, were completed by the bureau of statistics Thursday. They show the total exports of the year to be $1,227,443,425, against $1,231,482,330 in the fiscal year of 1898. The exports of the year thus fall but $4,038,905 below those of 1898, and are $175,000,000 larger than any preceding year, except 1893. The chief reduction in the value of exports during the year is in grain, of which the supply abroad in 1898 was unusually short, causing high prices.

The imports of the year amount to $697,077,388, against $616,049,654 in the fiscal year 1898, an increase of $81,027,734.

The expenditure of the government for the first twelve days of July have exceeded the receipts by $9,703,616, as against a surplus of nearly $10,000,000 for the preceding month. This deficit is not due to a falling off in receipts, which are more than normal, but to the heavy drafts on the new appropriations which became available at the beginning of the new fiscal year. The receipts from internal revenue so far this month have been greater by $1,313,617 than for the same period last July, notwithstanding the latter month was the first under the operation of the war-revenue act. The receipts from customs also show an increase of $1,211,392, while the expenditures for the first twelve days of the two years are nearly equal.

COMMITTEE ENDS ITS WORK.

G. A. R. Pension Investigators Will Report at Next Encampment.

Washington, July 14.—The pension committee of the G. A. R. has completed its work and adjourned. It will report to the next encampment of the order, which will be held in Philadelphia. The members declined to give out any statement as to the result of the investigation into the management of the pension office, which they have been conducting for the past two days, and also declined to say whether they had made any recommendations to President McKinley regarding Commissioner Evans. They called on the president Thursday and remained, with him nearly an hour discussing the pension situation and the G. A. R. in general.

Postoffice Figures.
Washington, July 14.—The number of stamps, stamped envelopes and postal cards issued by the postoffice department in the fiscal year ended June 30 was 5,162,020,525, valued at $92,659,167—an increase of 552,701,555 in number and $8,466,720 in value compared with the previous fiscal year.

Another Plant for Steel Trust.

Plattsburg, N. Y., July 14.—It is reported on good authority that the American Steel and Wire company has purchased the iron mines and mining property of Witherbee, Sherman & Co. at Port Henry, Essex county, New York. The price paid is said to have been $1,500,000.

Liberal Loss in Bavaria.

Berlin, July 14.—The Bavarian diet elections resulted in a great victory for the centrists, which is admitted to be due to the aid of the socialists. The election insures a majority to the centrists in the diet for the next six years, even if they depend entirely on their own votes.

State Department Is Intently Watching Developments.

Washington, July 13.—The state department is watching with anxiety the developments in Guatemala. It is premature to say that the decision has been reached to send the Philadelphia from San Francisco down to that country, and it may be that the presence of the gunboat Vixen on the east coast will be regarded as sufficient for the present. But there are hints of foreign action that might involve a repetition of the Corinto incident, and in that case it might be deemed necessary by our government to have a stronger naval representation at the seat of trouble.

It is said at the state department that the financial conditions in Guatemala, with impending repudiation, threaten severe loss to American citizens. But so far, our government has not consented to take any joint action with Great Britain, Germany, or any other nation, to bring pressure to bear upon the disturbed republic.

To Prepare a Wage Scale.

Hartford City, Ind., July 14.—The date for the meeting of the joint wage committee of the Window Glass Workers' association which was to have been at Pittsburgh yesterday has been postponed to Aug. 1. This meeting is to be held instead of a convention and will be participated in by the national officers and the executive board. By a vote of the membership this body will have full power to prepare a wage scale and arrange terms with the manufacturers. A new feature of this year's conference will be the presentation of the wage scale for the entire country at the same time. Heretofore the scale was first settled for the western district, after which a conference was held to arrange for the eastern district.

Flood Destroys Cotton.

Galveston, Texas, July 14.—Prominent cotton factors who have figured upon the loss to the cotton crop by the flood in the Brazos valley put the loss at from 300,000 to 500,000 bales. Accepting the lowest estimate, and putting cotton values at 4 cents per pound, the monetary loss in cotton by reason of the flood is $6,000,000. If that represents one-third of the total loss, as claimed, Texas has suffered to the extent of $18,000,000.

The lower Brazos valley is still submerged and the water is receding very slowly.

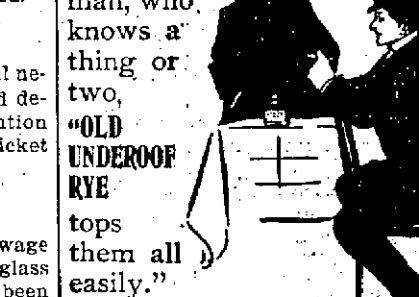

Germany Will Not Meddle.

Berlin, July 14.—The Cologne Gazette, referring to the alleged French plans to open negotiations with Germany with the object of effecting mutual action should Great Britain attack the Transvaal, declares that Germany does not intend either to interfere or to influence other powers to interfere. The Gazette does not think that the prospect of a rupture such as war is unavoidable.

Loss in Our German Imports.

Berlin, July 14.—Germany's exports to the United States for the quarter ended with June last were $21,000,000, as compared with $24,500,000 for the corresponding quarter last year.

CORSON ELECTED PRESIDENT.

National Educational Association
Chooses Officers.

C. G. PEARSE IS TREASURER.

Thursday's Session Devoted to General
Addresses—Boston Likely to Be Chosen as the Meeting Place of the Next Convention.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 14.—O. T. Corson was elected president of the National Educational Association and James A. Foshay of Los Angeles was elected second vice president for the ensuing year. Corson lives in Columbus, Ohio, and is a native of that state. He was a former school commissioner of Ohio. His main opponents were Foshay and L. D. Harvey of West Superior, Wis.

The office of treasurer went to C. G. Pearse of Omaha, with a slight opposition from W. S. Greenlee of Denver. Secretary Irwin Shepard retains his position, as he was made the permanent secretary at a salary of $4,000 a year.

The convention Thursday was devoted to addresses before the general session and the seventeen departments.

After the spirited contest lasting several hours Charleston, S. C., received twenty-three votes, Cincinnati three, Boston eleven and Montreal one vote as choice for the next place of meeting of the National Educational Association. This vote is not final, as the executive committee will visit the points and choose the one raising the largest guaranty and affording ample facilities. Boston is looked upon to win in the end.

Aid for Tornado Sufferers.

Madison, Wis., July 14.—Gov. Scofield has issued another appeal to the people of Wisconsin for additional aid for the sufferers from the New Richmond tornado. The appeal is addressed to the chairman of every board of supervisors in the state. The governor states that the loss from the tornado will reach $1,000,000; that $30,000 has so far been subscribed, and $75,000 additional is needed. It is the aim of the relief committee to place those who lost everything by the tornado only on a self-sustaining basis, and the amount asked to be contributed is all that will be necessary.

Tons of Poems.
Queen Victoria cheerfully bears among other burdens of her exalted position the inflictions of a crowd of minor poets who send their verses to her in honor of every conceivable occasion. It is said that at the birth of the Prince of Wales no less than half a ton of poetry was delivered at Windsor Castle.

A Curious Case.

A curious case is reported by a German dentist, Dr. Muhl Kuhnner. One of his patients was a woman of 24, whose right arm and right side of the neck had been paralyzed for two years and a half as a result, it was supposed, of a fall and broken arm, and he filed several of her teeth and extracted the much decayed third molar or wisdom tooth of the right side. The patient returned next day to state that her paralysis had disappeared.

To Measure Devotion.

The measure of a woman's devotion is the extent to which she will make herself uncomfortable for you; the measure of a man's is the effort he will make to have you as comfortable as he proposes to be himself.

Onto His Curves.

We started over thirty years ago in the hardware business and have been busily engaged ever since in caring for the public needs. We COMMENCED YOUNG and have grown old in the harness, and quite naturally have learned many ins and outs of the trade. My place, known as the Wm. Payne homestead, consisting of forty-three acres, all within the city limits and within four blocks of street cars. The house is a model and all the buildings are first-class. I will sell the place with all farm appliances, horses, Jersey cattle, wagons, carriages; and with curtains, carpets and similar household fittings, far below value on account of ill health.
